

It's October...

And the Jacarandas are in bloom

Against the blue sky...

Something that looks like a cup...

Can you see it?

A close-up photograph of a bird's nest. The nest is a thick, cup-shaped structure made of interwoven twigs, mud, and dried plant matter. It is attached to a light-colored tree branch. The background is a soft-focus green, suggesting foliage. Three lines of yellow text are overlaid on the left side of the nest.

It's a bird's nest!

Looks comfortable
and very safe!

Wonder who made it?

A black and white Peewee bird is perched on a cup-shaped mud nest. The bird has a black head and back with a white breast and belly. The nest is built on a light-colored surface, possibly a wall or ledge. The background is slightly out of focus, showing some greenery and a building structure.

Here is the owner...

-
It's a Peewee

What is she guarding?

"Hey!

Go away!

This is my nest!"

The big bird's gone...

What was she guarding?

Can you tell me what they are?

I think they are....

baby birds!

Three baby birds!

A silhouette of a parent bird, likely a frigatebird, stands on a branch next to a nest containing three chicks. The scene is set against a clear blue sky. The parent bird is on the right, facing left towards the nest. The nest is on the left, and the chicks are visible within it. The text "We are really hungry mummy!" is overlaid in yellow at the top left, and "...er...where are you?" is overlaid in yellow at the bottom left.

“We are really hungry mummy!

...er...where are you?”

“Here is some red stuff to eat!”

A close-up photograph of a black and white bird, likely a frigatebird, perched on a nest made of mud. The bird is holding a grasshopper in its beak, ready to feed it to a small, downy chick sitting in the nest. The background is a soft-focus outdoor scene with green foliage and a clear sky.

“And some white stuff
from daddy!”

A black and white bird, likely a swallow, is perched on a light-colored ledge. It is leaning forward, feeding a small, brown, fluffy chick that is sitting in a cup-shaped nest made of mud. The nest is attached to the ledge. The background is a blurred green landscape with trees and a clear sky.

“Right in your mouth...

It will make you really strong!

Strong enough to fly!”

“WHAT???”

Me...?

Really fly...?”

“Here we go...

here we go...

here we go.....”

A small brown and white bird is perched on a dark blue gutter. The background shows a corrugated metal roof with several dark brown, conical-shaped objects (possibly bird deterrents) mounted on it. The lighting is bright, suggesting a sunny day.

“Today the gutter next door...

...but tomorrow...

The Jacarandas!”

Loku Aththa June 2016